DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Objections

1. Claim 1 is objected to for failing to comply with rule 1.75(i) which requires line indentations to separate the various steps of the claim. In the instant case line indentation and formatting relative to each action word "associating" "retrieving" "computing" etc. should start a new line to clearly show the steps being claimed.

Art Unit: 3653

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 recites numerous method steps in the apparent preamble following the word consists (understood to be closed i.e. consisting of) and then recites steps following "characterized in that" (understood to be open). This conflict of terms makes it impossible to determine the metes and bounds of the claim. Furthermore it is unclear if the limitations in the preamble are meant to be positively recited or not. For the purpose of examination the claim has been considered as including open language such that the elements recited are required but such that other steps etc. are not precluded.

4. Claim 5 is also unclear as it is not clear which (the first or second) sorting pass is being discussed as the chronological order will be different each time. Furthermore it is unclear how if at "the chronological order" of claim 5 pertains to the chronological limitations set forth in claim 1.

5. Claim 7 is indefinite as no actual structure of the apparatus is recited and therefore the scope of claim 7 is not clear. Furthermore, as addressed below, examiner contends that any two pass sorter is capable of undertaking the method (see paragraph 12 of disclosure) and therefore any two pass sorter will anticipate this claim. Examiner suggests amending the claim such that specific structure is set forth including a controller that controls the elements to behave in a way consistent with claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

6. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The claims fail to render a useful, tangible, and concrete result, see MPEP 2106 IV-C-2. Specifically the claims have no result as they simply match records from the first pass with those of the second pass. The mail is not actually sorted/rejected based on the information and not is done with the result of the matching. To render the claims statutory every possibility set forth in the claim should have an outcome. For instance what happens when a match is found? What happens when no match is found? What happens when the previous "successive item fingerprints for which matches have been obtained" does not exist?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3653

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

8. Claims 1-5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by WO2005/089966 or WO01/23108. Both documents disclose all the elements positively recited by the claims. Examiner notes that the entire portion of the claim 1 which occurs during the second sorting pass and thus also claims 2-4 are the result of the conditional requirement which requires "a series of successive item fingerprints for which matches have been obtained..." What happens when this condition is not met? Examiner contends that under these circumstances (when the condition is not met) nothing is required by the claim and thus the cited documents anticipate the claims. In order to require one side of a conditional statement you must claim both possible cases and what will happen. For instance if A then B does not account for the situation in which A does not happen whereas if A then B and If not A then C requires a specific outcome for either situation. Examiner also notes that a similar situation may apply to whether or not a match is found during the comparison. Similar to above what happens when a match is found and what happens when no match is found.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
